The International Youth Conference is brought to you by Generation Next, a youth-led NGO, with the support of the Department of Global Communications, UN-Habitat, and a consortium of civil society organizations, all committed to youth participation and leadership around the world.

Over the years, the IYC has been held in various formats, initially with virtual sessions and later with hybrid and in-person sessions. Interactive discussions, social media moments, project showcases, mentoring, and regional sessions have been the cornerstones of IYC in addition to strong social media engagement to deepen the reach and engagement of youth globally.
